TRUTH & RECONCILIATION DAY

A reminder to all students and families that Monday, September 30, is Truth and Reconciliation Day. This important day honors the survivors of residential schools, their families, and communities, while recognizing the lasting impact of these institutions on Indigenous Peoples in Canada. Students are encouraged to wear orange shirts as part of Orange Shirt Day, a symbol of the commitment to reconciliation and the message that "Every Child Matters." In addition, students will be wearing orange jerseys during their on-ice session. Let's come together to reflect, learn, and support the path toward healing and understanding.
